Sana,

Thank you for your note.

We are having difficulty understanding why your client would not have a substantive response by now. We provided great detail in our February 6 letter and the reason we did so was to make it as easy as possible for your client to review and confirm our facts. We also would like to avoid litigation as we believe the facts are not subject to dispute.

Obviously we can't force your client to respond, but your note below does not offer any guidance as to when a response will be forthcoming or even why, after three weeks, it can't respond.

If we don't make any progress by next week we will have no choice but to file our lawsuit.

Regards,

-Josh

Mr. Hodas,

My client has been diligently conducting an investigation into the allegations in your February 6 letter, but it will need some additional time to complete its review. Accordingly, we are not in a position to send you a response tomorrow, but will provide you with a substantive response when the review has been completed.

Regards,
Sana Hakim

Ms. Hakim,

Thank you for your letter. We recognize that it may take some time to research the facts from your side.

Please provide a substantive response to our letter by February 28, 2014. We believe that should be more than enough time.

Regards,

-Josh
